ICPM Recognizes Managerial Excellence

ICPM proudly recognizes four recipients with the Managerial Excellence Award. The award honors individual efforts toward advancing managerial excellence through leadership, mentoring, social responsibility, and professional development. Recipients include:

Shivakumar Basavanahally, CM. Shivakumar is Supply Chain Director for the home furnishing manufacturer Himatsingka America Inc. Having started his career as a day laborer in 1999, he understands the importance of professional development to career advancement. He advocates for managerial excellence by demonstrating social responsibility and supporting the educational needs of underprivileged children in rural India through the Shiva Impact Foundation (SHIFT).

Dr. Jason Caudill, CM. Jason is an Associate Professor of Business at King University in Knoxville, TN. He advocates for managerial excellence by advancing himself professionally with certifications that include Certified Manager, Lean Six Sigma Black Belt, and Six Sigma Champion. Additionally, he shares his expertise with others by presenting at the 2016 Conference on Business Economics, Finance, and Accounting.

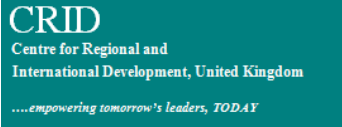

Bill Davis, CM. Bill began teaching at the Ashford University Forbes School of Business & Technology after a 34-year career in the beverage industry. As a faculty instructor, Bill uses his extensive experience in management to help students explore new business ideas and theories. He advocates for managerial excellence by authoring management articles and blogs, and by facilitating business relationships that create opportunities for career advancement.

Wanda L. King, MS. Wanda is President and principal consultant for The Center for Professional Training and Development. In this role, Wanda offers 20 years of leadership and staff and organizational development expertise. She advocates for managerial excellence by engaging managers around the globe in LIVE Online training to develop management and leadership skills and to facilitate career advancement.

New Instructional Partner Introduces CM® in the United Kingdom

The Centre for Regional and International Development (CRID) joined ICPM as an ICPM Authorized Instructional Partner in November to administer the CM certification and FoM certificate programs.

CRID has a 17-year history of developing public and private workforces with quality learning and development strategies. CRID will offer ICPM's management development programs in the United Kingdom, Africa, Pacific, and the Caribbean. For more information or to inquire about program start dates, contact Nicholas Aitalege by phone at +44(0)333 006 5678 or by email at nicholas.a@crid.co.uk.

Board of Regents Convenes at November Meeting

The ICPM Board of Regents, the Institute's governing body, met on November 11-12 in Northern Virginia for its bi-annual meeting. Thirteen members and two prospective members attended representing business, industry, academia, and the National Management Association (NMA). Topics of discussion included advocacy, strategic planning, succession planning, and future program development. Officers for 2017/2018 were elected and appointments for secretary and JMU/ICPM liaison were made. The ICPM Board of Regents provides advocacy, strategic vision, and financial oversight to the Institute. Certified Managers and other management professionals interested in serving a three-year term on the ICPM Board may contact ICPM at info@icpm.biz or by phone at 540.568.3247.
